Day 3: Zion National Park. On our second day at Zion, some may choose to hike up the Narrows today to see the amazing views. Others will enjoy a more leisurely hike on Watchman Trail or Riverside walk.

Day 4: Bryce Canyon. Bryce Canyon National Park is known for crimson-colored hoodoos, which are spire-shaped rock formations. The park’s main road leads past the expansive Bryce Amphitheater, a hoodoo-filled depression lying below the Rim Trail hiking path, our first venture of the day.

Day 5: Grand Canyon. We’ll enjoy classic North Rim views from Grand Canyon Lodge, and then walk the trail out to Bright Angel Point for dramatic views of Roaring Springs and Bright Angel Canyons. You can choose to hike or simply sit in solitude.

Day 6: Lake Powell. Lake Powell is part of the Colorado River in Glen Canyon National Recreation area. With 2,000 miles of shoreline, endless sunshine, warm water, perfect weather and some of the most spectacular scenery in the west.
